

deeper

the Divine reaches out
pulling us closer
willing for us newness
inviting us to live
further into the unknown.

deep calls to deep
visions of knowing who we are insist this is the quest to press
to believe we are purpose.

the roots of our lives
connect us to our past
to Ancestors gone
yet present
moving with us.

as mountains
as oceans
as prairie grass
we stretch ourselves
Into the deep

longing to touch
God who longs for us
